

U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service

Artifacts Subcommittee of the USFWS Heritage Committee

Think before you toss!

Help Save U.S. Fish and Wildlife Historical Objects, Photos and Documents.

All FWS stations have their own history and story to share. The Heritage Artifacts Subcommittee and USFWS archival facilities are asking for your help in saving our agency's rich heritage. Contact the Archives of the USFWS at the National Conservation Training Center (NCTC), the Fish and Aquatic Conservation Archives at D.C. Booth Historic National Hatchery, or the National Wildlife Repository at Rocky Mountain Arsenal for safekeeping items, documents, maps and photos at your station.

Early fisheries workers stocking fish in a stream, circa 1880.

National Wildlife Property Repository

nwpr@fws.gov
(303) 287 - 2110 x229

Fish & Aquatic Conservation Archives

april_gregory@fws.gov
(605) 642 - 7730 x215

USFWS Museum/Archives at NCTC

history@fws.gov
(304) 876 - 7276